THU PO KI, alias PUI-CHO, the Pro-PRINTOR of the SUI ON SHOP, a Wh-at Dealer in San Ki Street West, CANTON, BORROWED from us, the Undernamed BARES Fourteen in all, A LARGE BUM OF MUNEY. But he, instead of discharging the said debts, laid a false charge against us at the Pun Yu Magistracy. We were thus compelled to make a full Statement to the same Official in connection with the Loan, but, though summonses from the said Magistrate were constantly served on him, he failed to appear in the Court. After Six Months the Magistrate was convinced that the said C mu's A fildavit was entirely false and that the debts incurred by him had remained unsettled for two years, so, in the winter of the 20th year of Kwang av, Ris Worship gave judgment that the premises belonging to the said CHU in which business is now carried on under the style of Bung Wu, Pawnbröker's Shop in HONAM, should be scaled up and sold. The value of the house was last estimated at Tis: 5,000 by competent arbitrators, and the purchaser was Tar San Tong. Now as the assets have been divided among the Creditors, namely, the FOIRTEEN UNDER-NAMED BANES, we hereby give notice that ALL THE DEEDSOF THE PREMISES OF HUNG-WO have been ABROGATED and hope the people will be careful not to purchose the same.

here, which had on a previous occasion of the Hongkong degiment, the band of the been mooted, was again brought forward, and the Colony had rather a narrow escape, as the home Authorities had. almost settled the matter without reference to the local Government. Happily, however, the danger was staved off for the time. There is no present appearance of its renewal. but it is not at all unlikely that the proposal may be brought forward again at some future time, and it is therefore advisable that due note should be taken of the doings of the Consulate in the neighbouring Colony order that some adequate idea may be formed of the danger that has to be avoided. Under the pretext of securing protection for the Public Service of the year 1895 returning emigrants on their arrival in China it was proposed by the Consul at Singapore to issue passports to them and, of course, to charge fees for the same. The Government of the S raits Settlements, however, at once nut an end to this little scheme of raising the wind and issuel a proclamation to the effect that the tax was illegal and cautioning the Chinese not to pay it. LONDON 13th December.

FIRST DAY. Anyone strolling along the new Praya Reclamation yesterday would have quickly seen there was something unusual occurring. There was a large enclosure on the very water's edge with spacious mat sheds and flying flags and in the seats ladies in bright dresses with marine glasses looking out on the Harbour, while around the enclosure, along the reclamation in both directions, were hundreds of Chinese densely orowded toge her watching the lively scenes bef re them. The water was thickly dotted with craft of every kind, many with coloured bunting flying and many of them gliding swiftly back and forth through the water, following the movements of the officers launch. It was Regatta Day and everyone whose time would permit had furned out to see the excellent events that succeeded each other in rapid order, always on time and from beginning to end without friction and without in shap. The weather was glorious, no glaring sun, un troubleso ne wind, and the work done by all the participants was good in quality and quantity: The Band of the 1st Shropshire Light Infantry played at the Grand Stand and the crowd watched the contests with the keenest interest cheared the victors. The following were the officials; and so per-feet were their arrangements that everything moved like a perfect machine, and all the races were over without any contretemps one hour before sunset:-Committee: - Massrs. H. E. Wodehouse.

Young Kolisch best Horwitz .. the adult Steinitz conquered Andersenn, and now Lasker, one of the nawestmasters, causes Steints to strike his flag which has waved sloft so long. Still Steinitz tried to take liberties with his opponent and paid the penalty for his daring combined with his obstinacy. Lasker was too strong to be toyed with. But youth will be served, and as I have just pointed out, history repeated itself. The younger mind is stronger and more imaginative. A man in his 58th year is not so quick, so ready in resource, so fertile in invention as a capable man of 26. Lasker is an unexcitable, confident young man, with a head as clear as a crys.al. He has a perfect knowledge of the technique of the game, and the openings and defences. He plays with mathematical accuracy, but is ingeniously during when necessary and has a quick eye for an advantage. These are great qualities for a che s player. Lasker, who is now in England, was to have been entertained to dinner by the Metropolitan Chess Club on the last day of October, but owing to a revere attack of typhoid fever the members were denied the lope S. He has played the game from his boyhood, but came out as a player of prominence in 1889. In that year he was second in the Amsterdam tournament, and ofter that won matches with Bird and Blackburne without losing a game. He took the first prize in the National Master's Tournament of the British Chess Association in 1892, and the Quintangular tournament which followed. In 1893 he took part in all international tournament in New York, and came out with flying colours as ha won the whole of his thirteen games right off the reel. At the time it was remarked that this did not say much for his opponents, but looked at by the light of his later achievements, the ergument lacks force. Steinitz is very anxious to meet Lasker once again and maybe the contest will take place next autumn, but it is almost as- Hongkong Observatory, 14th December, 1894.

PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of latey ears been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy. and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the llowing facts are submitted for consideration:---Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples inis work contains more than him times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so . mplate, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English oaper, 9.854 lbs. scented crange pekes, 18,774 to communicate encountry with the congon, 3,320 lbs. scented siftings, 16 boxes the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

Not only is the Directory as full and complete n each case as it can be made, but each Colony, Port, or Settlement is prefaced by a DESCRIP. TION, carefully revised each year, some of which will serve as accurate Guides for the Tourist, giving every detail in connection with the places. their History, Topography, &c., &c. The Information afforded in these Descriptions alone would suffice to fill an ordinary volume, consisting of over Eighty bighly interesting articles, packed with facts concisely set out, and containing statistics of the TRADE of each Country and Port The work contains Directories and Descrip-
